Although I did not budget for new hires this year, I am always in favor of it because next year will start the process anyway as retirements will be pending in 2 years. I know Bruno and Assc. Have applied in the past and we always get denied. If they want to push forward with it, I will have the Dept. work with them now that some criteria was posted that we can apply.

Also, Bruno and Assc will be getting contacted again, since I just met with the Mayor at Station Square with the Engineer to discuss crosswalk lighting. The Contractor we can get reimbursement from SAGE grants so Bruno may have to take the lead on that.

Good Afternoon,

The Office of Congressman Bill Pascrell, Jr. is pleased to announce the availability of the Non-Profit Security Grant Program. The grant program allows for the purchase of equipment and for planning and training activities geared toward enhancing security where it is most needed. Interested nonprofit organizations have until May 10 to apply. Please share with all interested parties.

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has appropriated funding within Federal Fiscal Year 2019 to support the NSGP for nonprofit organizations... "NJOHSP remains committed to ensuring organizations in communities across New Jersey are well-equipped to combat an ever-changing threat landscape," said Jared M. Maples, Director of the New Jersey Office of Homeland Security and Preparedness. "Funding provided through the NSGP is a critical resource to enhance security measures and build resiliency capabilities for the protection of residents and visitors throughout the State."

DHS has notified each state of these federal NSGP programs and is encouraging full participation. Please be mindful of the required Vulnerability Risk Assessment (VRA) of the facility where you seek to enhance security measures. This can be completed by your local police department or county prosecutor's office. You may also visit NJOHSP's website and utilize the Facility Self-Assessment Tool.

Subject: Somber Reminder

Good morning everyone,

It's been 18 years since the September 11 attacks left nearly 3,000 people dead in the worst act of terrorism the nation has ever experienced. On Wednesday, the 9/11 Memorial and Museum will commemorate the lives lost with a ceremony honoring those killed at the World Trade Center, Pentagon and aboard Flight 93 — as well as the 1993 World Trade Center bombing. As has happened in years past, the names of those killed will be read during Wednesday's ceremony. Last year, some families of victims infused their own, personal messages of remembrance, inspiration and concern. Source: CBS

September 11th also marks the seventh anniversary of the attack on U.S. diplomatic facilities in Benghazi, Libya, by al-Qaida-linked group Ansar al-Sharia, wherein Ambassador Christopher Stevens and three other Americans were killed.

Two days before the anniversary of 9/11, two New Jersey lawmakers announced a new effort to target domestic terrorism, whether inspired by al-Qaida or white supremacism. Reps. Josh Gottheimer and Bill Pascrell Jr. proposed legislation that would allow law enforcement authorities to freeze the assets of domestic terrorists or those who provide material support, and to set up a national clearinghouse to collect and share information about terrorist incidents in the U.S. The lawmakers made their announcement in Ridgewood, NJ (Bergen County), after hearing from Jared Maples, Director of the New Jersey Office of Homeland Security and Preparedness. They said Director Maples identified homegrown violent extremists as the state's top threat. Source: NJ.com

Lest we forget.....
